Foreword and Dedication

Unity is oneness in purpose. This purpose, or the common goal at Central Catholic, is the education of the entire man. It is not only the advancement of the intellect, but the molding of Christian character through development of the will. This unity shines forth in many ways through the spirit incorporated by the students in their activities.

During Orientation Week this spirit of oneness is introduced to the freshmen. It is developed and becomes part of the student throughout his sophomore and junior year. To the senior, the spirit of unity is most evident; in fact, it is he who forms this spirit and injects it into the student body. He sets the pace of the school in leadership, scholarship, and unity. He is the finished product.

After graduation he carries with him the spirit of unity that he has acquired at Central Catholic and instills it in the hearts of men. He takes his place in the world, fulfilling his vocation as a Catholic, uniting the world in love.

In this, the 1964 Medallion, the staff has tried to depict the unique spirit of unity that abides within the walls of Central Catholic and the hearts of you, the students. We hope that you will recognize this spirit as you travel through the pages of this book.

"United we stand; divided we fall." How true these words ring in our modern world. The forces of evil are uniting, forming a deadly bloc of hatred, intolerance, and indifference. In the midst of world chaos, the Roman Catholic Church has called an Ecumenical Council, in hope that all Christians may once again be one fold and one shepherd.

We hope that by dedicating this yearbook to the Ecumenical Council we may bring to mind the tremendous need for its success; and that we may enlist the prayers of all as an insurance for that outcome.

of Galveston-Houston

*Most Reverend W. J. Nold,

Bishop of Galveston-Houston

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

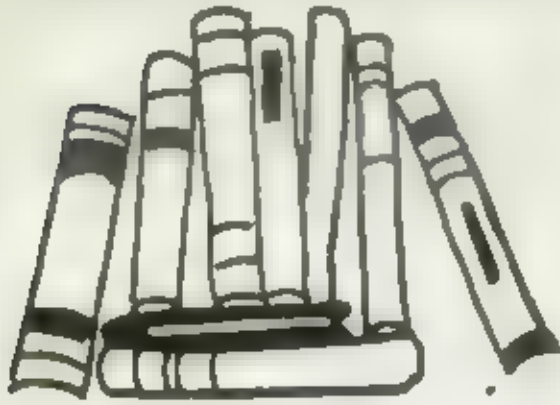

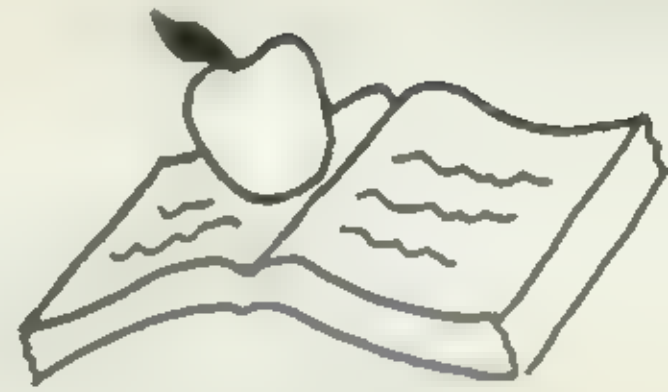

The students of Central Catholic loved him. We looked up to him as a towering example of all the fine traits a man is capable of possessing. His warmth was felt throughout the country, and when his life was taken, the world became chilled in a stupor of incredibility. Perhaps his exhibition of martyrdom, his tragic death, will serve a purpose in uniting the world as it united world leaders at his funeral ceremonies.

He is gone, but his famous words, "Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country," will live on in the halls of time.

Faculty and Administration

Father Leonard—Principal

Acting as the principal of Central Catholic is one of Father Leonard's biggest jobs. He also presides at the Foundation meetings and teaches religion to the freshmen. In spite of his busy schedule, Father is always available whenever a student or member of the faculty needs help or guidance.

Father Glynn is the treasurer of the Foundation. He teaches religion to the juniors and seniors.

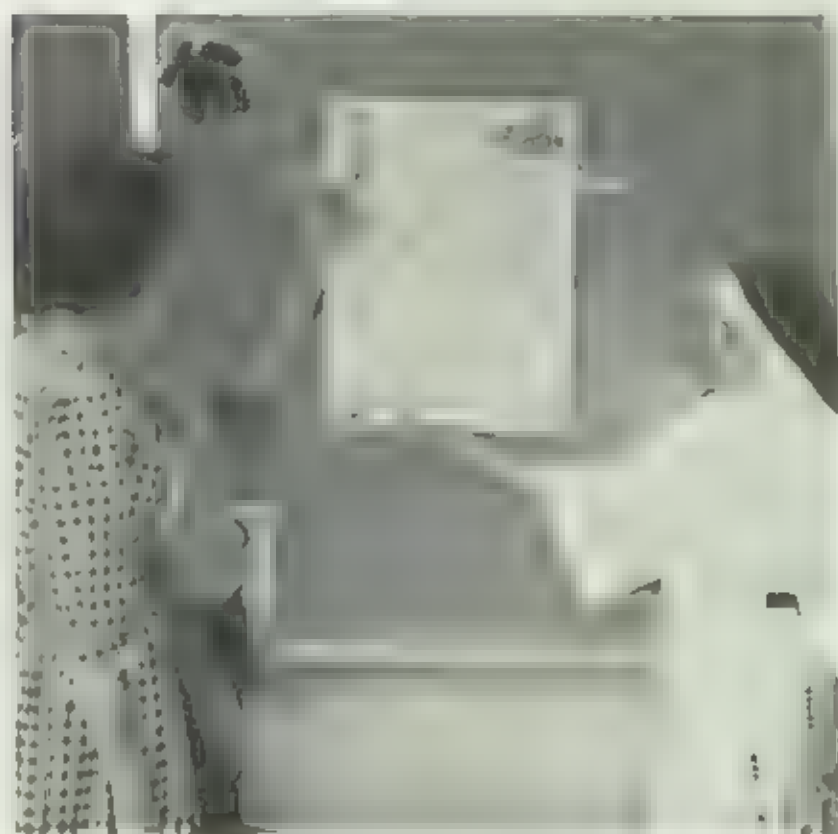

Father Rechin, the assistant principal, takes time out to talk to a few students. He also teaches religion and is the Athletic Director of Central Catholic.

Director of the Drama Club, Sister Magdalena, gives new ideas to Conrad and David. Sister also instructs the candidates for the Girls' Sodality and is the moderator of Home-room 6.

The instructor of sophomore and senior English, including an accelerated senior English class, is Sister Stanislaus. Home room 18 is under her guidance.

Coaching the sopranos, Sister Mary Louis enjoys her job as director of the Glee Club. She's usually seen in Room 14.

Sister Patrice unfolds the mysteries of the world around us. She has charge of our Blue Battalion and cheerleaders, and sponsors Homeroom 11.

Guiding the journalism students in publishing the "Barker" is Sister Dorothy. She also teaches home economics and biology and is the sponsor of Homeroom 9.

A new instructor is Mr. Weeks, who teaches science and math. He sponsors the Red Cross and the freshmen in Homeroom 19.

Mrs. Harris, our school secretary, can usually be found in the office, assisting the students and carrying on her various duties.

Our library is under the direction of Sister Annunciata with Barbara Klema as assistant librarian. Sister teaches civics and is the Homeroom sponsor of room 10.

Sister Rose Martin, the director of the Medallion, is in charge of the book store and sponsors the F.B.L.A. and Homeroom 4. She also teaches typing and bookkeeping.

Coach Novak, the head football coach, is also the freshman basketball coach. He teaches algebra one and boys' P.E. classes.

Mrs. Allen instructs all of the girls' P.E. classes and sponsors the Girls' Athletic Association.

Demonstrating the principles of math is Coach Reimer, the head basketball coach. He also teaches boys' P.E. classes

Sister Innocentia, of Homeroom 29, teaches Latin I, II, and III. On Tuesday afternoon, she moderates the Boys' Sodality

Demonstrating the correct spelling is Mrs. Heinen, who teaches Spanish I and II, and sophomore English. She is the moderator of Homeroom 20

Mrs. DeYoung gives aid to a student in algebra II. She also teaches geometry and biology

Mrs. Audilet, one of our new teachers, sponsors Homeroom 17, and teaches several subjects including speech

Sister Frances Clare, moderator of the Girls' Sodality, teaches Spanish and American History.

The role of Drama...

Drama should be as natural to us as playing "Cowboys and Indians" was when we were children. At the same time, acting is a sublime imitation of the activity of God Himself. The true actor creates a new personality within himself which he projects to the audience. And in doing so he must assume that character with enough self-abandonment to be completely identified with his role by the audience. This imitation of the humility of Christ, who assumed human nature and became identified with us, is completed in the union of the actor with his role which reflects the Holy Spirit of Love between the Father and the Son.

The Drama Club exists to offer the opportunity of sharing in something of this sublime experience

The Barker

Associate Editor Carmen Ferguson and Editor Jo Ann Daleo study page make up

The Barker is published seven times a year by members of Journalism I and Journalism II classes. With the exception of positions of editor-in-chief, associate editor, business manager, and circulation editor, all positions on the Barker rotate with each issue. All work including writing, make-up, copy, proof-reading and photography is done by staff members. The printing is done by Beaumont Printing and Lithographing Company.

Mike McGettigan, Bill Crowley and Robert Burnett prepare Barkers for mailing to Foundation members and exchange papers

Margret Coco, Sam Danna, Bella Weber and Mike Battaglia work on Barker mailing to Foundation members.

Photographers, Genon Oliver, Robert Allen and Clayton Lau discuss pictures.

The Medallion

The Medallion, your high school yearbook, is a volume of the history of your school year. This year's staff members have spent many long hours over planning sheets and layouts, but the Medallion could not have been published without your cooperation. The staff has attended several seminars to improve our yearbook and this summer we have three delegates going to the Summer Workshop at A&M University. The most joyous moment of the year for us will be when you receive your copy of the 1964 Medallion.

TRACK

District Champs

4th at State

In their first year of real competition our track team performed like seasoned veterans. The constant and rugged practices and the grim determination of our track team paid off with a district championship and a trip to Dallas where they placed 4th out of 14 Catholic High Schools in the state. We salute our track team for their fine performance in their first year of competition.

The Medallion Staff

Pete Maida strains with every muscle as he strides to victory in the 220 yard dash at the District meet.

Mike Gorman reaches his hands high as he tries to victory in the broad jump at the District meet.

Peter R. Bonta sprints to the finish line as he wins the low hurdles at the District meet.

Jimmy Mackin kicks his legs high to easily clear the bar in the pole vault in District competition

Albert Fumuso drives hard toward the finish line in the 100 yard dash at the District meet

Sam Nuchia grimaces with determination while heaving the shot put at the District meet

Tommy Peterson exhibits perfect form in his grooved backswing...

and his powerful follow through

Golf

Our golf team competed in many city wide and out of town tournaments, but the highlight of the year was the trip which they took to the district tournament in Galveston. The varsity includes: Jerry Dollinger, Tommy Peterson, Bobby Dinsmore, Joey Tortorice, and Luke Petkovsek. The freshman team includes: Gothard Sargl, Henry Fertitta, Randy Tyndall, Tommy Petkovsek, and Mike Daleo.

ACTIVITIES

Orientation Week

The "fish" were introduced to Central Catholic through the joys and sorrows of Orientation. With seniors as rulers and freshmen as slaves, both classes had their share of excitement. This old custom promotes interclass cooperation and friendship as well as allowing for lots of fun.
